Generation Two

2. Alonzo Beebe (1.Unconnected¹), b. ABT 1814 in Steuben County, New York,^{1,2,3,4} occupation Farmer,^{2,3} d. Jul 1892 in Yuma, Yuma, Arizona,⁵ buried in Pasadena, Los Angeles, California.⁵ Called A. Beebe, age 46, in the 1860 census and Andrew Beeby in the 1870 census. Alonzo was listed in the 1840 census of Howard, Steuben, NY. Charles Perkins Beebe b. 1792, in NY was also in Howard in 1840 census and may have been his father. Another Beebe in Howard in 1850 was Jonathan Beebe, b. about 1791 in CT, who may also have been his father. However, at this time a connection is unproven. Jabez Beebe Jr., father of Charles, is said to have died in Howard, NY in 1829.

Jonathan Beebe may be the Jonathan b. 21 Apr 1791 in Danbury, CT whose father David Beebe moved to Jerico, Chenango, NY in 1820. Lastly, the only Beebe in Steuben County census in 1820 and 1830 was a Richard J. Beebe. Richard was a Rev. War Veteran b, 1751-1753.

The Biographical and Historical Record of Greene and Carroll Counties, Iowa. The Lewis Publishing Co. Chicago, 1887. Allen Co. Library, Ft. Wayne, IN. History of Greene County. Pg. 418, contains the following info on the family:

Henry Beebe has been a resident of Greene County since 1865. He settled on 160 acres of land on section 35, Kendrick Township. He sold that farm and removed to his present home in Bristol Township. Henry was born in Steuben County, New York, Nov 20, 1840, son of Alonzo and Elizabeth Beebe. He was the eldest of a family of six sons and three daughters. When he was quite young his parents removed to Kendall County, Illinois, and then to Chicago in 1864, where they now live a retired life. 3. Daniel Beebe (1.Unconnected¹), b. ABT 1788,¹⁵ d. 1845 in Cook County, Illinois.¹⁶ Based on his age in the 1840 census of Du Page County, IL, he was age 30 and less that age 40. Family researcher has broken the ages down in the 1840 census to the following persons "Cynthia and Daniel Beebe, w/Cynthia's son Chester Perry Dow, her dau. Adeline E. Dow, her dau. Evelyn Beebe, her son Henry Preston Beebe, and her toddler Daniel A. Beebe." Some records show he died in Cook County, IL about 1845 (perhaps what is now Du Page County) and his wife is next shown in Kane County, IL remarried to Alexander Comstock. It appears likely (but yet unproven) that Daniel is buried next to his wife Chythia in the Oak Grove Cemetery in De Kalb County, Illinois. He married Cynthia Woodworth, ABT 1828 in New York,¹⁷ b. 11 Aug 1801 in Norwich, Windsor, Vermont,^{18,19,20,21,22} d. 11 Jul 1876 in Sycamore, DeKalb, Illinois,^{16,23,20,22} buried Ohio Grove Cem in De Kalb County, Illinois.^{24,22} Cynthia: In 1840, Du Page County, IL, Cynthia and Daniel Beebe, were living w/Cynthia's son Chester Perry Dow, her dau. Adeline E. Dow, her dau. Evelyn Beebe, her son Henry Preston Beebe, and her toddler Daniel A. Beebe.. In 1850 Cynthia (widow of Daniel) and Alexander Comstock were remarried and living in Kane County. Based on her age in the 1840 census of De Kalb County, IL, she was age 30 and less that age 40. In the 1850 census she is age 48 and b.Vermont. Researcher Phillis Warren found Burial Book Lot No. 58. Cynthia owned two plots there: the one she is buried in and then next to her is another gravestone almost completely worn away. On this stone can be made out easily "BEEBE" at the top and then not so easily her son Henry P BEEBE, then under that a little more worn is his wife Lousia (PECK) who died before him, and then lastly at the bottom really worn away is Daniel BEEBE. The wear on the stone is commesurate with the number of years between deaths recorded on it as if each death were recorded at the time of death moving up the stone in order as needed. Phillis also found that Cynthia is placed finally in her tree as the daughter of Benjamin WOODWORTH b. 2 Apr 1759 and his wife Eunice ABEL. Cynthia WOODWORTH, b. 11 Aug 1801 Norwich Twp, Windsor, VT and d. 11 Jul 1876 Sycamore, DeKalb, IL, burial as "Cynthia COMSTOCK" in Ohio Grove Cemetery (estab.1839), Cortland Twp, DeKalb Co, IL (Latitude: 41.95083 : Longitude: -88.66083) She is found in The Book of Dow, p665 that her first husband was Richard Dow and Daniel was her second husband and Alexander Comstock was her third husband.

He took the Freeman's Oath 4 Mar 1793 according to the History of South Hero Island, Vermont by Allen L. Stratton, 1980, page 40. Later moved to Oswego County NY, where he appears in the 1814 census, and "Landmarks of Oswego County" Edited 1 July 1895 contains the follow stories about him:
"On one occasion, about 1806 on his way from the mill one evening with his horses and homemade jumper sleigh, he was attacked by a small band of wolves. With his axe, he beat them off, but they would then get in front of his horse and stop it. This battle was renewed five times with the same results, until the wolves finally retreated with howls to gather reinforcements. Mr. Beebe knowing their nature made all possible haste towards home, and scarcely reached his destination when the wolves appeared in large numbers, but he was safe in his cabin home." The obituary of his Grandson James says that he (Nathan) is one of 14 children of Nathan Beebe, a native of Vermont.

"On the evening of May 10, 1827, he with six other men started to paddle a flat boat loaded with lumber across Oneida Lake from Cleveland to South Bay, at midnight, when about half way across a storm arose and the waves washed the lumber into the lake. He and a man by the name of Cummings were washed off on seven planks. It was a cold night and six inches of snow fell; their sufferings were intense. After struggling about hopelessly with the waves, Mr. Cummings became chilled and weak and Mr. Beebe, being a very large and powerful man of wonderful endurance and endowed by nature with great will power, succeeded in getting his comrade under one arm, while with the other he held the planks together. In this way he battled with the waves for their lives. At about four o'clock in the morning, they drifted ashore, poor Cummings still grasped in the strong arm of Mr. Beebe, but not being able to withstand the extreme exposure had expired an hour before. Mr. Beebe died in 1834."

In Vermont marriage records he is listed under the name "Beeby." He married Gene McDonnell, 23 Aug 1792 in South Hero, Grand Isle, Vermont,³¹ b. ABT 1875.³²

7. John Beebe (1.Unconnected¹), b. 28 Feb 1788 in New York or Connecticut,⁴¹ d. 16 Feb 1848 in DeKalb County, Illinois,^{41,23} buried Charter Grove Cem in Sycamore Twp, Dekalb, Illinois,²³ occupation Cabinet Maker.⁴² Much of the following information was provided by Sara Gaarde, a descendant of John Bebee's son Henry: John Bebee and Sarah Clark were married at Lorraine, Jefferson Co., NY, on 1 June 1817 by Rev. William Case. All ten of the couple's children were born at Lorraine, where the family is shown in the 1820, 1830, and 1840 federal census. John was listed as engaged in manufacturing and a later county history from Illinois states that he was a cabinetmaker in Lorraine. John and Sarah lived in close proximity to Sarah's parents, John and Elleff Calkins Clark.

A Bible belonging to descendants of John Bebee's daughter Harriet indicates that he was born Feb. 28, 1788 in Connecticut but census records on several of his children show New York as his birth place. According to an Illinois county history, John Bebee owned a farm in Lorraine, but it was probably timber land that would provide him wood. Along with Sarah's parents, John and Sarah Bebee lived in close proximity to her uncles and their families, Jesse and Nathaniel Clark. Susan Clark, a daughter of Jesse Clark, married a William Bebee (born circa 1797) who moved to Lorraine between 1820 and 1830. William's relationship to John Bebee is as yet unknown.

John Bebee died in DeKalb Co., Ill., on Feb. 16, 1848 and is probably buried at Charter Grove Cemetery (unmarked grave), just north of Sycamore, IL. Sarah Clark was born 31 May 1799 at Broadalbin, NY, (then Montgomery County) the daughter and third of 10 children of John and Elleff Calkins Clark. John and Elleff Clark and their children migrated to Lorraine, Jefferson Co., about 1805 and were pioneer settlers of Lorraine.

John and Elleff Clark are buried at Hights Corners Cemetery, Jefferson Co., NY. Sarah Clark Bebee died 23 March 1876 at the home of her daughter Harriet Bebee Scott in Genoa, Ill., and was buried there at Charter Grove Cemetery (unmarked grave).

Horace Haskins, husband of John's daughter Mariah had grown up at Henderson Harbor, Jefferson Co, NY. Soon after Horace Haskins' marriage to Mariah, Horace and his father-in-law John Bebee decided to go west to Illinois with their families. At Henderson Harbor, John Bebee built a wooden sailboat that the whole group used to migrate west. After the boat was completed John sold his farm in Jefferson County, and the entire group started west in the spring of 1844. It was a long, arduous journey. The group consisted of John and Sarah Bebee with their nine younger children, and Horace and Mariah Haskins with their young son, a total of 14 people. They sailed west from Jefferson Co. toward Toronto, Canada, and then entered the Welland Canal at St. Catharines, Ontario, in order to get from Lake Ontario to Buffalo, NY, and Lake Erie. The group was detained for a week on the Welland Canal, and during that time the young grandson of John and Sarah, James Harvey Haskins, took ill. The group continued on their lake voyage, sailing across Lake Erie to Detroit, north through the straits at Detroit to Lake Huron, and then north on Lake Huron to the straits of Mackinac. At Mackinac, young James Harvey Haskins died. The group continued south on Lake Michigan, but stopped and buried the child at Milwaukee. The illness and death of the child must have made the voyage very difficult for all, but especially for his parents and grandparents. Horace Haskins later recalled having $5.37 in his pocket when he landed at Chicago in June, 1844. They went to St. Charles, Ill., for a few weeks, but then continued on to the Sycamore IL area and arrived there by the Fourth of July 1844.

John Bebee purchased land from the United States in 1845, but died in 1848. Two of his children predeceased him and the other children grew up in the Sycamore, IL, area. Horace Haskins became a successful DeKalb Co. farmer. Henry and Charles Bebee left Illinois soon after the Civil War and migrated to Iowa to farm. He married Sarah Clark, 1 Jun 1817 in Lorraine, Jefferson, New York,²³ b. 31 May 1799 in Broadalbin, Montgomery, New York,²³ d. 23 Mar 1876 in Genoa Twp, DeKalb, Illinois,^{43,23} buried Charter Grove Cem in Sycamore Twp, Dekalb, Illinois.²³ Sarah: Daughter of John and Elleff (Calkins) Clark.

ABT 1847,⁴⁶ buried in Shreveport, Caddo, Louisiana.⁴⁶ In the 1820 census of Paint Twp, Highland, OH, David was age of 16-26 living with a female age 16-26 and another male age 45 up. In the 1830 census in Rome Twp, Lawrence, OH, David age 30-40 was living close to Levi Trobridge who is assumed to be related to his wife. A descendant says David died on a river boat. David was considered, but unproven, as a son of Abner Beebe since he is the right age and he seems to have arrived in OH about the same time as Abijah Beebe, known son of Abner. He married Sarah Ann Trobridge, 1820 in Highland County, Ohio, b. ABT 1799 in North Carolina.⁴⁷ Sarah: In the 1850 census of Bloom Twp, Scioto, OH, she was living with her daughter Mary Ann and husband Enos Stephenson. She is shown as age 61, b. VA. 9. Samuel Prentice Beebe (1.Unconnected¹), b. 12 Jun 1796 in New York,⁴⁸ d. 27 Dec 1849 in near Lansing, Outagamie, Wisconsin,⁴⁹ occupation Farmer. Birthdate and location of Samuel P. Beebe is unproven. He may be the son of Avery I. Beebe but no proof has been found. He is said to have been called Samuel Prentice in some records. Name spelled "Prentiss" on son Martin's death certificate and in the "History of Outagamie County, Wisconsin" where he purchased land as the second family in the Town of Freedom.

Prentice bought the land in the town of Gates Monroe Co. NY in 1829 from James C. Beebe. Prentice sold land to Wm. Wear in 1835 and based on data from his son Charles, they then moved west. James C. Beebe and Prentice are both listed on the same page in the 1830 census. It is unproven that James and Prentice were related. Prentice in one record is listed as a carpenter. James C. is also listed as a carpenter on the deeds. James' wife is Mary and in 1850 shown as born in Canada. James died in 1831. In the 1830 census he is shown as age 30/40 or about the same age as Prentice. James C. and Mary M Beebe have the following children on the Surrogate Court Records: widow Mary; Maria; Wm. H.; Louisa(?) Turpin wife of Wm. Turpin; James C.; Emily and Mary. This paper is filed in 1857 Monroe County, NY. In the 1830 census there is a older couple living in the Prentice household. The male according to ages shown in the census was b. mid 1700s. The female was about 10 years younger. The couple cannot be Wealtha's parents since Leonard Pierce was dead and her mother Jemima was living with another daughter & family in WI. It therefore appears possible that these may have been the parents of Prentice. A Granddaughter, Delia McNeal Coon, left a note saying that her Grandfather, S. P. Beebe was b. 1799 in Massachusetts. This Granddaughter also wrote a number of historical Articles in Oregon including some on the history of Hood County, OR.

Charles P. Beebe, youngest son of Prentice dictated a family history in 1916 during the time of illness that ended in his death. He said that the family moved from Rochester, NY to Detroit, MI. In 1835 they moved from Detroit to Green Bay, WI and sometime later moved to Duck Creek. He said that the first annual town meeting was held in Lansing on Sept 12, 1849 Prentice Beebe (spelled that way this time) was elected as a justice of the peace... Chauncey Beebe as a constable. In 1852 the town of Lansing divided and was called Freedom. H.P. Beebe was elected clerk....

In 1856, Abraham McNeal, Phoebe's husband, talked the family in moving further west and in May of that year Wealtha, John, Martin, and Charles had sold everything and with the McNeals started for Omaha, NE by way of Green Bay, Chicago and St. Louis. A descendant of Silas says "After his first wife Mercy died, he remarried a widow in Michigan who was originally from Riverhead- Mehitable Warner." However, in the 1860 census, the age and name is Zellamus. Both Zell and wife Frankie immigrated to Whitman County, Washington Territory in 1877 according to an article by a member of the WashingtonBottle Collectors Assn. in 1992. The 1900 census shows him age 53 and b. Mar 1847 in CT. However, in 1910 he is shown as age 65. They had been m. 22 years at time of the 1900 census. Occupation shown in 1900 was Farmer. Zell Beebe and Charles E. Taft became "soda water manufacturers" in Colfax, Washington Territory, in 1884, and later opened Colfax's first cigar store. Charles Taft was Zell Beebe's brother-in-law; Taft married Frankie Beebe's sister. Zell was elected and served the city councilman and mayor. Active in city affairs, he was a charter member of the first Governing Board for operation of the Colfax Cemetery Association of Washington Territory. Served as District Deputy Grand Master, He instituted Verona Rebecca Lodge #13. Charter member of Colfax Lodge #14, International Order of Oddfellows in which he was the first elected High Priest. Zell continued in the "Colfax Bottling Works" until his retirement in 1904. The firm survived several ownership changes, lasting as a Coca-Cola bottling plant into the early 1950's. Zell and Frankie Beebe retired and moved to Seattle around 1910. Zell was killed in an automobile accident near San Diego, California, 20 February 1914. Information from the San Diego Union, that date, includes "Crushed beneath an overturned automobile stage when the car plunged over a twelve-foot embankment into a stream of water on the Beacon hill grade last night, Zell M. Beebe was dragged from under the machine in an unconscious condition and died two hours later from internal injuries. The ditch was swollen with water from the heavy rains which had been falling during the last twenty-four hours, and the stream completely covered the men pinned beneath the overturned stage. Aided by William Ware and J. H. Banbury, who lived nearby, Young and the two Mexicans extricated Lomesson and Frisbey before they lost consciousness. Beebe, however, was crushed under the middle of the car and five minutes passed before he was dragged out. He was unconscious and nearly drowned. After being worked over for more than an hour Beebe recovered consciousness, but an examination proved that he had slight chance for recovery. He was badly crushed about the chest, and this injury, together with the narrow escape from drowning, brought about his death. which occurred about an hour later, probably from an internal hemorrhage of the lungs." An Obit in The Colfax Commoner, included "Colfax received a shock last Friday morning when it was learned that Zell M. Beebe, one of the best known and most highly respected pioneers of Whitman County had been instantly killed by the overturning of an automobile stage near San Diego, California, Thursday evening. Zell M. Beebe came to Whitman County in 1877 and located at Almota, where he built the first grain warehouse at that place. Later he came to Colfax and engaged in carpentering, and secured half a section of land less than two miles from Colfax, which he still owns. He married a sister of J. L. Strevy, and with Charles Taft, who married another sister, engaged in business in Colfax under the name of Beebe & Taft. That was in 1882. Fifteen years ago he bought the interest of Mr. Taft and conducted the business until 10 years ago, when he retired. he was 70 years at time of death, leaves a widow but no children." Frankie Beebe died in Seattle, 24 Feb 1946, at age 87. She and Zell are buried in Colfax cemetery. He married Frances R. Sep 1860 in PA. Her age had been marked in as 40 and crossed out and replaced with 39. However, in the 1910 census, she is shown as age 51 and the mother of 3 living children (this is likely an error since no children were found and Zell left no surviving children in 1914). Her mother, Eliza A. Strevy, age 80 and widowed, was living with them in Colfax, WA in 1900. Age 87 at time of death.

Beebe son of Elisha P. Beebe. It relates that Elisha P. and Diadema (Jackson) Beebe, both of whom were born in the city of Syracuse, New York. Elisha P. was born in the year 1813, and was reared and educated in Syracuse, NY where he learned the trade of carpenter and joiner, and where he continued to reside until he had attained the age of about twenty-three years, when he came to Jackson county, locating in what was then the little village of Jacksonburg. He devoted him self to the work of his trade as opportunity presented. Thereafter he resided on the farm of Anson Jackson, whose daughter Diadema he married. They for a time resided on a farm west of the Jackson homestead and later removed to the old place on which his son Charles was born, the same being located in section 8, Blackman township. Here Elisha P. Beebe secured a tract of eighty acres, while his wife became the owner of forty acres of her father's homestead. The entire tract was wild and covered with a heavy growth of native timber, but he set himself to the task of reclaiming the land and eventually brought the same under effective cultivation, while he also continued to work at his trade at such times as his services in the line were required in the pioneer community. He was age 34 in the 1850 and 47 in the 1860 census. Elisha P. and Diadema (Jackson) Beebe became the parents of four children, namely: George Edgar, who is. a resident of Platte, South Dakota; Charles H., Mary, who died at the age of fourteen years, and Helen, who is the wife of William Mayo, a successful farmer of Blackman township. 55. Oliver Hazard Perry Beebe (8.David², 1.Unconnected¹), b. 20 May 1821 in Ohio,⁴⁶ d. 18 Jul 1864 in Kansas.⁴⁶ According to a descendant, Don Connolly of Lincoln, NE, Oliver left Ohio with his in-laws about 1859 for Nebraska. He worked for a freighting company out of Brownville, NE. In March 1864 he bought some land in Beatrice, NE where the parents of his wife lived. On July 18th, he and his son William were on a wagon train that was approached by Indians and were attacked, taking all by surprise. Oliver and William were both killed and scalped. Later, soldiers from Ft. Zarah buried the eight white men and two black men along Walnut Creek.

In 1973, a farmer noticed some bones along the washed out creek. He notified authorities and later the Kansas State Historical Society sent some archaeologists to excavate the site. They found a common grave with eight males and a small grave near by with two males. The skeletons were taken to the Anthropology Department at the Kansas State Univ. Upon examining the skeletons, it was found that two were related. One adult male and one younger male both had an abnormal growth on their arms that was an inherited condition. Because Oliver and his son William were the only two on the train that were related, it was determined that those two skeletons were theirs. The information on the above was acquired with the assistance of the Santa Fe Trail Center in Kansas. The bones and documentation are at the Anthropology Dept. at the Kansas State Univ. Family History Center, microfilm #1312162 refers to Elvin Beebe. He died on May 19, 1912 in New London living at 34 Thames Street. He was listed as a widower. His father was listed as Isaiah Beebe from New London and his mother as Painelia Keeney also from New London. He had been ill for five years but it was a sudden death. It was presumed that Elvin married Harriet and she was Cora's mother but information gathered proved otherwise. On Dorothy's birth certificate, her mother's maiden name was listed as Duncan and on her death report her father was listed as Elvin but her mother was listed as Jane. Family History Center #1312160 indicates that Elvin Beebe married a Jane Duncan on August 3, 1865. On the same film there appeared a marriage between Elvin Beebe, born and living in New London, CT and 33 years old, married Harriet Battie, age 23 and born in England and living in Warwick, Rhode Island. The date of the marriage was listed as Christmas Day, 25 Dec 1876. Harriet: All that was known of Harriet Battie (Batty, Battey) was that she was born in Hyde Park, England. The microfisch at the Family History Center, indicates that she lived in Rhode Island. In Rhode Island there was a John Allison 45 years of age from England and his occupation was listed as a merchant. Mary A. Allison was listed as being 47 years old and his wife and also from England. Harriet Battey was listed as the daughter and 20 years old and born in England and working at a paint work store. Her father was listed as Edward Batty being born in Cranston, R.I. and having died in March 27, 1869 at the age of 41 years, 4 months and 27 days. The probability is strong that his wife, Mary A. Battey married a John Allison and kept her two daughters with her. There was a William H. Harrison that lived on the same street that was 51 years of age and single head of home. Did her second husband (John Allison) die and she married William Harrison?

P. Beebe was a native of Massachusetts b. 1799 and died in Wisconsin in 1849." Delia had been m. 26 years at time of the 1900 census. At that time she had also been the mother of 8 children with 5 living at time of the census. She is a manager of a green house in 1930 at age 75 and her daughter Phoebe is also working there. The Oregon Journal, Portland, OR., July 22, 1935, page 4 IMPRESSIONS AND OBSERVATIONS OF THE JOURNAL MAN By Fred Lockley 7-22-35 After the death of my mother, my father, Abraham McNeal, started with us children for Oregon said Mrs. T.R. Coon when I interviewed here recently at her home in Hood River. My sister Sarah, who was 9, was the oldest, I was next. Then came the twins, born on July 8, 1856, in Dodge county, Nebraska, and the baby. We started by wagon, in the spring of 1860. When we came to where the road headed south for California my father met someone who told him he had met Father's brother, who had gone to California in early days and was living at Sacramento. Father decided to go to California in place of Oregon. I was only six years old, but I remember we went through Carson City and through the giant trees. When we arrived at Sacramento Father could not locate his brother, and in fact he never did locate him. Father was a shipbuilder, so he bought lumber and built a schooner to run on the Sacramento River. I was so much interested in everything going on that when I started to walk on the gang plank to go aboard the schooner I walked off and fell into the river. Father with much more disturbed about it than I was, for I enjoyed my impromptu bath. Father decided to go to Oregon, so he left his schooner to be sold, but the man who sold it maintained thereafter complete silence as to the transaction, so father never realized anything from it. We came to Portland on a ship that sailed in September, 1861. A lot of soldiers from California were coming up to Oregon. One of these, Frank Noble, later settled at Hood River. From Portland we went to Oregon City and thence to Silverton. After a short while we went to Salem. Father hunted up Mr. Fisher, a Baptist minister, whom he had met. Mr. Fisher was preaching, while his wife, with the help of her children, ran a hotel in North Salem. We stopped with a family named Churchill, at State and Liberty streets. Father secured work at Durrell's sawmill. We children started to school in Central school. Professor Daniels was the teacher and Mrs. Northcutt taught the primary grade. On December 4, 1861, the Willamette river was in flood and Durrell's sawmill was carried down the river. A day or so later the water came over Commercial Street and carried away the bridge. A row boat came and took away the family with whom we were living and the men said they would come back and get us, but failed to do so. Gassy Smith, proprietor of the Union hotel, came at 3 o'clock next morning through water hip deep and carried my sister Jennie and me, while my father carried my other two sisters, to the Union hotel. The House we were in was not washed away, but when the water went down the floors were ankle-deep in mud. Father secured work in the Nicklin mill and later got a job as a machinist in the woolen factory in North Salem near the brick store. We moved into Mr. Fisher's house. Father had his hands full taking care of the children, so Judge R.P. Boise took my sister Sarah, and they sent my twin sisters to Mrs. Robb's home at Dallas. They wanted to send me to a family also, but I wouldn't go. I have always been more or less of a rebel, and I declared I was going to stay with my father. Mrs. Smith had taken over the Marion hotel, so father and I stayed at his hotel till May. I was only 8 years old, but Mrs. George Anderson said she would keep me if I would work for my board and help take care of her baby. George Anderson worked with his brother-in-law, Mr. Strang, who had a tin shop. I worked at the Anderson home for the next four years, at the end of which time I started to school with Lizzie Boise. She was a sister of Judge R.P. Boise. Judge Boise told Father I could go and live on his farm in Polk County, near Dallas, so I lived with Judge Boise and his family for the next two years. I came back to Salem when I was 14 and attended Sacred Heart academy for a year. I then went to the East Salem high school a year. I then entered Willamette University. I stayed at the home of Mrs. Van Wagner and worked for my board. No, I did not graduate from Willamette. I had to earn money, so I went to Puyallup, Wash., and security a position as teacher. Ezra Meeker was a member of the school board. T. R. Coon and I had been students at the old Central School at Salem. We met again at Puyallup, where we were teachers in the school. We taught 10 months at Puyallup. We were married at Tacoma on April 12, 1874, and were the first couple married there. In a second interview with Mr. Fred Lockley on 27 July 1935, she said "Our daughter Cornelia died when she was 7 years old. Carl lives in Portland. Melvin lives with us. Our daughter Ruth married William Foss. They live in Hood River. Florence married Harry Woods. They live in Portland. Mabel lives with us." In the 1870 census she is age 13 and she and her sister are living in the household of John [Johannes]and Eliza Emmons. An obituary in an OR newspaper (date unknown) stated that "At the age of 6 years the [McNeal] twins were adopted by Mrs Johannes Emmons of Dallas, Oregon," In the 1900 census, Jennie is shown as mother of 6 children with 4 living. Based on this, and the fact that their mother is shown b. Oregon, Dora and Ella are assumed to be the daughters of James Cooper by an earlier wife. In the 1930 Census, she is living alone, age 73, widowed and shown as married at age 20. Beebe was born December 23, 1870 at Hooper, a small village near Green Bay, Wisconsin. His parents were both born and reared in that same county of WI. His mother was Carrie (Batie) Beebe. George W. Batie, maternal grandfather of the subject of this review, was in his day and generation one of the prominent and influential citizens of Green County, WI, where he maintained his home at Hooper and where he reared his large family of children. The father of Charles S., of this sketch, was born at Green Bay in the year 1854, and he was six years of age at the time the family moved to Hooper in the same county. He continued there farming until he was eighteen years of age, and after his marriage he was engaged in work at Hooper, where he remained until 1882, when he came with his family to Nebraska and established his residence at Wayne, judicial center of the county of that name.

He gained for himself the position of "printer's devil" in the office of the Wayne Herald. In 1901 he assumed the position of deputy county clerk of Wayne County, and after four years he accepted the position of manager of a general store in the village of Carroll for four years. He was then elected treasurer of the county for a term of four years. In 1912, he went to Wakefield, Dixon County, to assume the position of cashier of the Security State Bank and two years later was elected bank president.

The month of June, 1894, recorded the marriage of Mr. Beebe and Miss Cora Reynolds, daughter of Charles E. Reynolds, a citizens of Wayne, this state, and the one child of this union was born at Wayne and whose early education was there acquired in the public schools, including the high school. In 1920 she was graduated from the Iowa State College at Ames, with the honors of her class, her studies having been specially directed to preparing herself for service as a teacher. In 1921 Miss [Majorie]Beebe accepted a position as a teacher in Los Angeles, CA. In 1923 she became the wife of Neil McLeod, who is successfully established in the mercantile business in that city. Mr. and Mrs. McLeod have no children.

Note: Actually there were three children of Charles S. Beebe and the author of the article seem to have made some errors concerning the marriage of Marjorie Beebe. He married Cora R. Reynolds, 27 Jun 1894 in Wayne, Wayne, Nebraska,⁴⁸ b. 11 Mar 1868 in Elkader, Clayton, Iowa,^{48,457} d. 26 May 1954 in Wayne, Wayne, Nebraska,⁴⁸ buried in Wayne, Wayne, Nebraska.²²³ Cora: Daughter of Edward and Mary (Hill) Reynolds.

Family members said Guy Lester Foreman Jr. was in the hospital when he had the stroke that led to his death. According to a police report from the Anna, Texas, Police Department, Foreman was driving a 1995 Freightliner tractor-trailer southbound on US 75, just north of Farm-to-Market Road 455, on Thursday, June 23. The truck "veered off the road for an unknown reason and turned on its side in the ditch next to the highway," said Officer John Dragoo in the report. Another driver who saw the crash told police that he saw the truck "just drive off the road like the driver had either fallen asleep or was having medical problems." The accident occurred at 9:03 p.m. The truck was owned by the Dart Transit Company. Dragoo said Foreman was taken by a Care Flight helicopter to Methodist Hospital in Dallas, Texas. It was there that he died on Monday. A memorial service for Foreman is scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday, July 9 at the family's Konawa residence. Arrangements are being directed by Pickard-Swearingen Funeral Home of Konawa. He was born March 21, 1939, in Muskegon, Mich., to Guy Lester Foreman Sr. and Cora Alfie (Woodard) Foreman. He was a resident of Konawa and Maud who worked as a truck driver for many years. Dart Transit Company was his current place of employment.

Foreman served his country in the U.S. Army from July 30, 1956, to Sept. 17, 1959. A family member said he was in the Green Berets and the Army Airborne during that time.
